Haury Hall

Right. A view from atop the KBCU tower, Haury Hall is often said to have the most character of all the dormatories at Bethel and is home to many of the campus' most charasmatic figures.

Warkentin Court

Right: Warkentin Court, as seen from the KBCU radio tower, is commonly refered to as the "mods." The mods are popular for their distinctive features like lounges and decks.

Left: Karrie Peterson fills her plate with all the fixins at the annual hog roast outside the mods.

Above: Adam Robb and Travis Friesen kick it in a mod while they study and look at things.

Voth Hall

Right: Voth Hall is the newest residence facility on the Bethel campus. Fun fact: Voth Hall was originally called "New Res."

Campus Kids

The Ol' Dining Hall

Above: Sara Friesen-Guhr serves drinks to Joe Haviland, Adam Akers, and Ben Voth as part of the pancake feed, where faculty and staff served the students.

Service

Below: Jason Auernheimer burns some brush as a service project.

Above: Ricardo Gonzalez carefully paints the side of Kaufman House.

Left: Scott Janzen and a couple of his buddies maintain the Sand Creek Trail bridge by throwing rocks into effective places.

Worship on Campus

Students were encouraged to participate in a wide variety of spiritual life activities on campus, everything from the weekly chapel services to student-led worship experiences to morning and evening prayer groups. Students also meet for Bible study in the residence halls and for late-night faith and ethics discussions at the local doughnut shop.

Drubers Discussion took a new step this last year, by incorporating students from Hesston College as well as Tabor College.

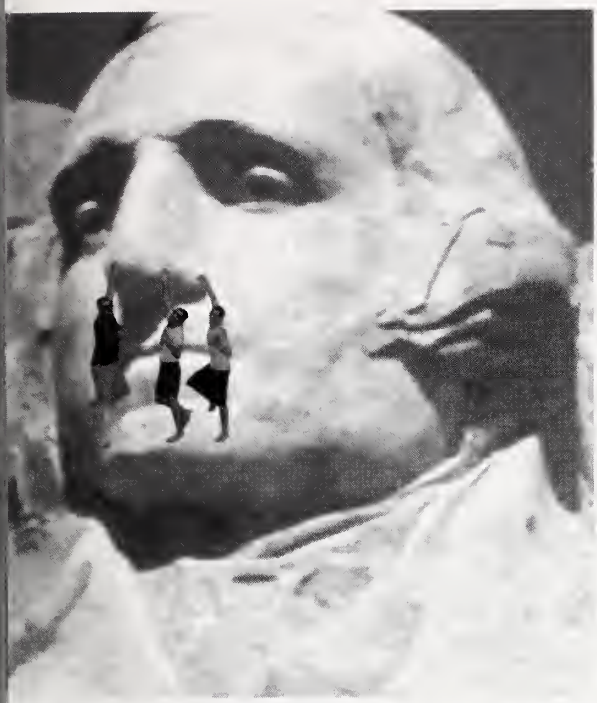
Above: Chapel Participants engaged in a time of reflection and prayer.

Right: Students gatherd around a banner that was on display for a 9-11 memorial service.

Below: One of the many beautiful Stained Glass windows that decorate the chapel.

Right: As part of worship students brought in food items for the Harvest of Love food drive, which Harvey County residents benefited from.

Spring Break



Spring Break was a busy time for Adam Akers, Todd Flory, and Jason Ramey. The first stop on their ten day journey across the world was Mt. Rushmore. The three co-editors of this very book scaled the face of America's first President. Next stop was rafting down the rapids of the Congo River where they saved the tour guide from a piranha attack. Trekking through the frozen landscape of Antarctica, the three Bethelites won the coveted Slushners Cup, an annual 300 mile race across the harshest part of the continent by foot. The last stop of their spring break trip was a visit to Egypt. Here they viewed the Great Pyramids and Sphinxes and discovered a new tomb that had been hidden for years.

Buildings & Grounds

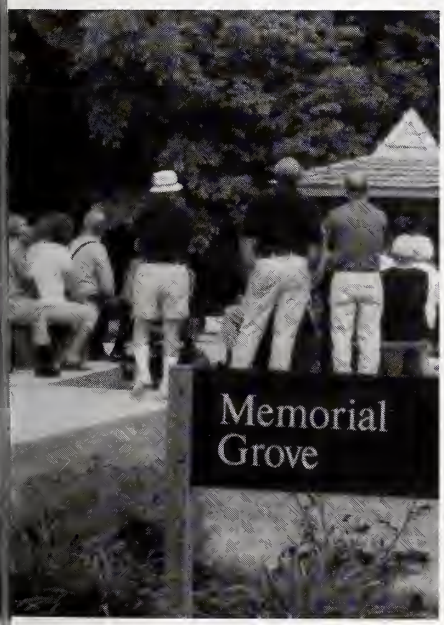
Below: A group of students rushes to the library to study up before class.



Left: The dedication of Memorial Grove brought out a large group of people. Memorial Grove was built as an addition to the Sand Creek Trail, and provides an opportunity for supporters to donate money to have a personalized brick placed in the sidewalk.

Above: Memorial Hall was built in 1938, and since then it has been used in many differnt ways. Many students find themselves in class or working out in the weight room in the basement, while other students use the main floor for concerts, and recitals.

Inauguration

E. LaVerne Epp inaugurated as Bethel College's 12th president

October 14, 2002

NORTH NEWTON, KAN.- E. LaVerne Epp, 30 years after his graduation from Bethel College, was inaugurated as Bethel College's 12th president Oct. 13 during afternoon ceremonies in Memorial Hall. More than 1,000 people attended the inauguration, including 31 delegates from colleges and other schools of higher education in a dozen states.

Dee Gaeddert, St. Paul, Minn., chair of the college's board of directors, presented Epp with a medallion bearing the official seal of the college and officially installed Epp as president of Bethel College. On the seal, with symbols to represent faith, hope and charity, is the college's motto: "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." (I Cor. 3:11)

"LaVerne Epp, may God give you the strength, wisdom and grace necessary for you to discharge your duties as president of this college in the spirit that the seal of the college imparts," Gaeddert said.

Epp presented his inaugural address, "A Splendid Torch."

Among those in attendance at the inauguration were four of the college's 11 former presidents: Douglas Penner, Harold Schultz, Orville Voth and D.C. Wedel.

Retired history professor Keith Sprunger, who introduced Epp, described him as "the man of the hour" and noted that Epp was the only Bethel College president who had served the college as an admissions counselor. Epp, a 1972 history major who graduated from Bethel College with honors, was one of Sprunger's students.

Louise MacClanahan, president of the Newton Ministerial Alliance and chaplain at Newton Medical Center, offered the invocation.

David Ambler, vice chancellor emeritus at the University of Kansas, was one of seven individuals who gave greetings. Representing all Kansas institutions of higher education, he commented on the important partnership between public and private colleges and universities and offered words of encouragement. "If you can walk, you can dance. If you can talk, you can sing. Under President Epp's leadership, Bethel College will sing and dance as it has never before," Ambler said.

Others offering greetings were Lee Snyder, president of Bluffton (Ohio) College, who represented Mennonite colleges; Vern Preheim, Newton, moderator of the Western District Conference of Mennonite Church USA; Randy Pankratz, Newton, a partner in the Adrian and Pankratz law office, who offered greetings from the Newton community; Cynthia Jantzen, Wichita, president of the Bethel College Alumni Association; Karen Bauman Schlabaugh, chair of Bethel College faculty; and Aziza Hasan, senior from Halstead and president of Bethel College Student Senate.

Quotables

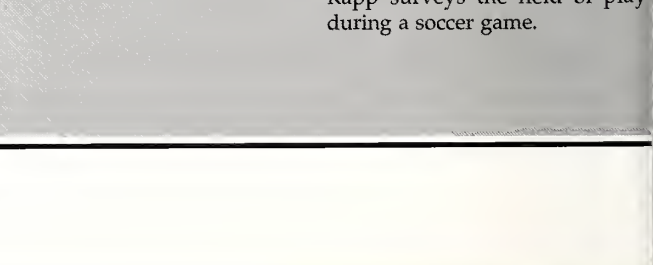
Put duties aside at least an hour before bed and perform soothing, quiet activities that will help you relax.
---Dianne Hales

No matter how much pressure you feel at work, if you could find ways to relax for at least five minutes every hour, you'd be more productive.
---Dr. Joyce Brothers (1949 -)

There is no need to go to India or anywhere else to find peace. You will find that deep place of silence right in your room, your garden or even your bathtub.
---Elisabeth Kubler-Ross



Livin': Supporting the team, Leah Rapp surveys the field of play during a soccer game.

You Got Five? The basketball court beside Voth Hall was frequently used by students.

Below: As Dan Anderson, Eric Stucky, Jeremy Schrag, and Chris Graber can attest to, traveling and forensicating can make you hungry.

Musical Opera

Below: Bethany Amstutz and Mike Ducett strut their stuff on stage under the big lights.

Above: Too Many Sopranos was a musical opera that was performed at Bethel College by real, live Bethel College students.

Right: The cast of Too Many Sopranos pose for a group picture at the end of the show. The show, as many critics have proclaimed, was a hit as it made the audience laugh, cry, and weeze.

Drama

Above: Trying hard to remember the sequence of events and lines in a particular scene, Henry Dick and Ben Gundy look toward the director for guidance.

Right: Ivonne Cabrera and Marisa Hernandez had a special radio show in the cafeteria for Cinco De Mayo.

Jazz Band

Below: Mike Steinel, Tom Luer, and Nick Enz perform a special number at a jazz concert.

Sinfonia

Left: These members of the sinfonia winds mark the last group that Don Kehrberg directed. Kehrberg was the founder of the sinfonia group at Bethel College.

Campus Bands

Below: Chris Janzen, Matt Esau and Jesse Overright are Pine Trio. This threesome explore music in many forms, and are an asset to the Bethel music community. Holy smokes, they're millionaires!

Below: Basement Bash is a longstanding tradition at Bethel College and is a venue where all of Bethel's musical talent can showcase they're skills.

Below: Bethel's oldest band still on campus is Zero Lactose Tolorence. Rodger "Huge Nuge" Nugent, Luke "High Tower" Schmidt, Todd "3 Peet" Flory, Ben "Bentrippen" Voth (aka BucketHead), and Jason "Thor's Hammer" Ramey make up what is Bethel's most talented bar. What started as Mike Klein's brainchild, has fast become the biggest sensation to hit North Newton since Kidron Bethel.

Closing

THE LOCKLESS DOOR

by: Robert Frost (1874-1963)

IT went many years,
But at last came a knock,
And I thought of the door
With no lock to lock.
I blew out the light,
I tip-toed the floor,
And raised both hands
In prayer to the door.
But the knock came again
My window was wide;
I climbed on the sill
And descended outside.
Back over the sill
I bade a "Come in"
To whoever the knock
At the door may have been.
So at a knock
I emptied my cage
To hide in the world.
And alter with age.

I really enjoyed getting to know you last year. I will never forget the fun times that we had together. Keep in touch.

Adam Allen

I'll never forget the time when Zach threw that party at Screech's house, and you knocked over Screech's mom's Elvis statue! HA! And don't forget, you owe me five bucks!

Jason Ramey

Hey! Summer's finally here! It seems like just yesterday we took that roadtrip and picked up that drunken circus freak hitchhiker. Ah... good times. Kick it. BTW, remember Oct. 12th? You owe me big time!
